You can connect to the Sussex wif network with most new Blackberry models, enabling you to check your email and connect to the internet free of charge when you're on campus.

This guide explains how to register and set up a Blackberry Curve and can be used for other Blackberry models.

More details about the wif network can also be found online at

- Find your IT Services username and password (you collected these during online registration)
- Find your Blackberry's MAC address. Click on the Menu key and then choose Options and Status. The MAC address (MAC stands for Media Access Controller) is shown
